Main Activities:

1. Exams – RDS

- a. UCD Semester 1 exams were held between Monday 8th – Friday 19th December. We had a support and advice stand at the RDS every day. We also ran a number of programmes leading up to the exams such as group grinds, and a number of stress reducing events. Everything ran very well, and the Education office, although under a huge amount of pressure, performed very well.

2. Future of Teaching & Learning – Research

- a. On Friday the 5th December, I gave a talk on the Future of Teaching & Learning in UCD at a staff seminar. From this has come a number of new initiatives which we are involved in. The most notable of these is a programme to make research more relevant to undergraduates, in line with the President's ambition to make UCD a research intensive University. We will be working with the seven UCD teaching fellows, the Registrar and Vice President for Academic Affairs, and also the Vice President for Research, Innovation and Impact on this project.

3. SU Clinics – Library

- a. We continued our commitment to being present in different faculties and engaging with students as much as possible. The focus during this period was on a 'Revision Roadshow' which was centred on the library coming up to exams.

4. Registrar Selection Committee

- a. I am a member of the Selection Committee for the new Deputy President, VP for Academic Affairs, and Registrar. This has required a considerable time commitment. We have met a number of times to consider all the applicants. Four candidates will be interviewed on Friday 23rd January in Newman House. I also spent some time at the briefing sessions for the stakeholder groups from University Management Team, Academic Council, and the Student Body.

5. Constitution

- a. We have reached the final draft of the updated constitution in anticipation for the constitutional referendum on February 11th & 12th. I will speak in more detail about this as an agenda item. Please note the updated (unmarked) constitution as part of your documents. I will also provide a short document highlighting the changes.

6. Strategy

- a. We have been working on teasing out the key elements, structure and objectives of the upcoming strategy. While a large piece of work has been done on it, it is behind schedule because of the workload of the constitution and that time will be caught up once the constitution is officially filed as the final document. The strategy will be launched at the Anniversary Dinner on Friday March 20th.

7. UCD Fashion Show

- a. The UCD Fashion Show will return to the Astra Hall on the 18th & 19th February this year. The show will be managed by a paid Executive Producer, the Entertainment and Events manager and a committee of volunteers. The show was made possible from Campus Sport & Leisure Ltd guaranteeing €10k worth of costs. We are also actively approaching sponsors and are confident of doing a deal in the coming weeks.

8. Student Holiday

- a. We are considering becoming an advertiser for a student holiday at the end of exams. This is based on a successful model run by a professional company a few years ago. This is likely to be launched soon.

9. Facilities Upgrade

- a. From successful campaigning, there are currently a number of facilities upgrades on campus. Work has been completed in the Health Centre, work has commenced in the Arts block and work is due to commence in the coming weeks in the Library and Engineering social areas which we hope will have a positive effect on our shops there.

10. New Board Members

- a. I am delighted to nominate Anthony Kelly, Justin Sinnott and Ciara Brennan to become directors. I believe that their diverse range of expertise will compliment that of which is already present on the board.

11. Anniversary Dinner

- a. We have set the 20th March as the date for a Gala dinner in the Astra Hall to celebrate our 40th anniversary. This will also mark the official launch of the Union Archive, and the Union's Strategy. President of UCD Andrew Deeks has confirmed for the event.

Plans for Next Council

- 1. UCD College Carnival
- 2. Constitutional Referendum
- 3. Marriage Equality Referendum
- 4. Board Meeting & AGM
- 5. FRAMC
- 6. Governing Authority
- 7. UCDSU Strategy

Main projects undertaken

Sex Out Loud:

I have decided to change the name of what was previously known as SHAG Week to alter the focus of this campus wide event. This year's event will focus on sexual health but will also have a very heavy focus on the importance of consent and what consent really means. I have been making the bookings for this week, placing the bulk orders and planning the events. If anyone has any ideas or something they would like to see as part of this week please let me know as soon as possible as it is taking place in week 3 of semester.

Love you For you

This week focuses on healthy attitudes to oneself. Not just in regard to body image but how we view ourselves as a person but also what we can do to look after ourselves on a day to day basis. This event intentionally is on the same week as the fashion show so that the two events work in harmony with one another. Things such as laughter yoga, body&mind, mindfulness and healthy eating demos will all take place during this week.

Plans for next council

By next council I will have finalised the programme for the "Taking Control Week", have made further work a long-term wellbeing plan for the future both within the SU but mainly with a focus on how the SU can work with the various stakeholders in the university.

Constitutional referendum, marriage equality referendum signatures and voter drives, further progress on the Student Mental Health Policy.

I also hope to pop around to the students on Res in week three if anyone would like to join me as week three tends to be the week when students begin to find things tough again.

Welcome Back and I hope you all had a lovely Christmas! Maeve

Library Quality Review

This was an opportunity that many of you helped with and we were able to provide feedback to the library on improvements we would like to see. Many of the topics discussed dealt with issues that students see daily from plug space to access to more online journals to name a few.

Quinn/Smurfit Future of Learning

Feargal and I participated in the Future of Learning workshop run by Maeve Houlihan to grasp where the business school should look to improve its teaching and learning. Feargal and I presented on the aspects that we see will play a large part such as more technological use, research made relevant to undergraduates, further intercultural and diversity driven courses, and much more.

Exams

During the study week we made study planner/ candy cane drops in the library assuring to be as quiet as possible so we wouldn't disturb studying. Also, as many of you saw we were based in the RDS during exams time. While at the RDS we answered questions and dealt with various issues ranging from panic attacks to missed exams. In addition, during the first week we provided goodie bags to many students.

Residence Review Oversight Group

In December, Amy and myself were invited to participate in a subgroup of a UMT Student Experience Group. This review is looking at the future of residence allocation and the manner in which guidelines will help with percentage increases for once the new residences are open.

International Fair

Amy and myself gave an accommodation workshop presentation to the incoming international students for second semester. We also participated in the international fair in which many parts of campus life have stands and answer questions about what to expect this semester and other tips and advice.

Student Body Stakeholder Engagement Group for Registrar Selection

I was selected as one of six students to participate in the student body stakeholder engagement group. This is an opportunity in which we had discussions with candidates and were able to ask different questions on various topics. The group was made up students from all backgrounds in order to gain different insight on campus life.

Smurfit Visibility

I will be back to Smurfit this week half days on Tuesdays and Fridays. I can be found in Syndicate room 1 when I am on campus unless stated otherwise.

Postgraduate Ball

The tickets have gone on sale. The Ball will take place February 5th down in the Hilton Charlemont.

AGM

The SU AGM will have taken place and there will have been resolutions discussed and voted on.

Plans for next council

By next council we will be working on having more Mind Your Mind days, constitution and getting people motivated to vote on the referendums, update on how the ball went, working with graduate reps to discuss input on SU strategy, and continuation of College X.

Introduction

Hi guys,

Hope everyone had a good Christmas and New Year! Hopefully you're all happy with the exam results too, if not please don't hesitate to contact any of the Exec members for help! ☺

Since Last Council

A.I. course for Ag and Vet students:

- Researched the possibility of running an A.I course for students (A.I stands for artificial insemination in case some of you are wondering). Unfortunately its not possible to run it for large groups so it won't be going ahead.]

1st/2nd Year Ag and Vet Mixer:

- Organizing a night out for 1st and 2nd years with class reps. This has been done for human nutrition, food science and vet students already and worked really well so hoping it'll be just as successful with the Ags.

Constitutional Changes:

- Worked with the rest of Exec on discussing and amending constitutional changes for the referendum. Any questions on them please ask! ☺

Farm Safety Talk

- I'm working with AgSoc to run a farm safety talk during Ag week, which will be on during week 3 of this term, hoping to have a few different speakers from the Farmers Journal, the Health and Safety Authority and others!

CV and Interview Workshops

- Planning to run these for students doing placement in future years of their chosen course. Hopefully these will help students secure their desired placements.

Also helped out selling tickets for the Post Grad ball, in the SU bookshop and attending Exec meetings.

Plans for next council

- Hold the first CV/Interview workshop and run the Farm Safety event.
- Push the Marriage Equality Campaign and Constitutional Referendum.
- Help out with Ag week events, this will be the main project for me over the next couple of weeks.
- Re run the Ag and Vet 5-a-side.

Business & Law Report – Council 5

Name of Officer: Laura Brohan

Position: Business and Law Convener

Email: laura.brohan@ucdsu.ie

Date of Council: 26th of January

Since Last Council:

- Looked over constitution and proposed changes to the constitution. I propose that the constitution should include a requirement for postgrad only meetings once a month as I think that postgrad issues differ greatly from undergrad issues, which can dissuade postgrads from running for class rep and getting involved at council.
- Brainstormed ideas for the leadership programme, LeadUCD.

Plans for Semester 2:

- Attend the Class Rep Training Day and encourage as many reps from my faculty to attend, particularly those who were unable to attend the first training weekend.
- Work on the LeadUCD programme.
- Engagement with Smurfit: Try and tackle the disconnect between the Belfield and Blackrock campuses.
- Hoodies and trips: Assist reps in planning their trips; distribute my 'trip tips' to my reps; ensure hoodies have been ordered by class reps
- Work on the yes vote campaign for the upcoming marriage referendum campaign
- Promote the upcoming constitutional referendum and encourage students, in particular class reps, to run in the SU elections.

Introduction

Hi everyone, I hope that you all enjoyed a restful Christmas break and a happy start to 2015. Below you'll find a summary of my work since the last Student Council meeting. As always, please don't hesitate in contacting me at the above email if you have any questions or feedback. Looking forward to working with you all during Semester 2!

Recurring Meetings

College Council
Student Advisor meeting
NMHS Student Forum
Individual Class Rep meetings

Summary of work since last Student Council

1. Exam support services

During revision week I drew up and circulated an online exam guide to each of the Health Science groups. The guide contained practical information such as transport to and from the RDS, what to expect upon arrival to the exam hall, and support services available both in the RDS and back on campus. I also promoted Education Officer Amy's study blog by sharing it alongside the exam guides.

2. NMHS Student Forum

I attended the Student Forum meeting on Thursday 20th November 2014, in which items such as the Mater Lean Academy, National Preceptorship Framework and UCD Strategic Plan were discussed. Students gave feedback regarding the staging of assignment submission deadlines and the maintenance of facilities in Health Sciences. The event was also attended by 3 of the Class Reps within the NMHS School.

3. Charity fundraisers & awareness campaigns

The Candy Cane Sale in aid of Childline was held during Week 12 of Semester 1 and was very well received. As the Health Science building is also used by Engineering and Science students, the campaign extended beyond the Health Science courses. This event was proposed by Aoife Larkin (Radiography Stage 1&2). The HIV Testing Awareness Week was also held during Week 12. The aim of the event, which included an information session, movie screening and discussion panel, was to raise awareness regarding the European HIV Testing week. This event was organised by Aoife Lacey (G.E.M. Stage 1).

4. Health Science ENTS update

After contacting each of the society auditors, the Health Science ENTS page was updated accordingly. I also ensured that upcoming SU events such as the Fashion Show castings, Postgraduate Ball and Constitutional Referendum engagement sessions were promoted. I met with the auditor of Nursoc to discuss the Marie Keating “Powering Kindness” competition, which takes place during Week 1 of Semester 2.

5. Careers Week in Health Sciences

I met with Áine Murphy (Student Advisor) regarding the proposed Careers Week in Health Sciences. The aim of this event is to broaden the students' perspectives by encouraging them to consider alternative or niche career markets as they complete their undergraduate degree. As such, past pupils of the College of Health Sciences will be invited to speak with current undergraduate students about the less-traditional career route that they took following their undergraduate degree.

Plans for next council

Before the next council I will have:

1. Completed fundraising work for the Marie Keating “Powering Kindness” competition
2. Followed up on the Class Rep Refresher Training session with the students undertaking Clinical Placement/Internship
3. Continued work on Humans of Health Sciences
4. Focused on the promotion of the upcoming Constitutional Referendum
5. Booked the Health Science social event in UCD Clubhouse

The evening was well attended and went really well. I spoke about my experience as a BSocScience student and my involvement with the union.

The programme office has guaranteed that unflattening won't cause difficulty for current second years who haven't taken some of their third year modules. Although there was some confusion i think it was received really well.

Interfaculty Games

The games are set to take place before the midterm and will be in partnership with the Innovation Academy. The plans are coming along really well and we are currently looking for prizes for the winners.

Social Science Ball

The social science charity ball is on the 25th of February and Childline is our charity. Tickets are on sale this week and planning is coming along really nicely.

Social Science Networking Evening

I've begun planning a careers networking evening for social science student on the same week as the Volunteers Showcase so those who need 420 volunteer hours can start looking for placements.
