

WHAT IS A COLLEGE OFFICER?

College Officers are the primary conduit between the students, class representatives and the Union Executive. We raise awareness of issues specific to you in all appropriate forums, including Union Council and Union Executive meetings.

What I'll do for you as your new officer

1. Report my own progress and work throughout the year

This is something we've been missing in the past, a problem that has been brought to my attention by my constituents in BSc Economics. Through these reports, you can hold me accountable, and you can be certain that I am working hard on your behalf.

My number one aim is to be forward facing towards the student body. I will do that by being a present, reliable, and accountable officer you know you can depend on.

2. Better event organization across the college

As Class Rep for economics, I organised many nights out for the class. These were hugely successful, bonding our degree programme. I will organise more of these nights out across the college at discount prices, with one of my main goals being to organise a Social Sciences Ball with the Ents team.

3. Having a 2-way discourse between myself and you, my constituents. Throughout the year I will hold forums with all the class representatives of social sciences to hear from them what you, the social science students, have to say. As your College Officer of Social Sciences, I can assure you that I will hold your Class Representatives to a high standard, and work with them to solve all your problems, big and small.

Above all, I, Peter Falvey, am I man you can depend on to bring social sciences together by listening to all your wants and needs, and delivering quality solutions.
